

GRAVE-STONE INSCRIPTIONS OF

SANDISFIELD,

FOREWORD.

SANDISFIELD, Berkshire County, Massachusetts was first settled in 1750 and incorporated as a town in 1762. At first it was known as the SOUTH ELEVEN THOUSAND ACRES. It was not the cornerstone of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, but played a large part in its superstructure. It is now [1939] a decadent town, whereas in 1790 it was a flourishing community with a population of 1,742. The Federal census of 1930 gave it a population of 412.

Since these inscriptions were copied many of the grave-stones have crumbled away, or have fallen down and have been covered up with moss, dirt or leaves, and many of them cannot be found today. Therefore, for genealogical and historical purposes these records are invaluable.

These inscriptions were copied with great care after 1916, and contain all that could be found in the seven public and two private cemeteries within the township limits.

Among the burials are an array of names famous in the founding of New England.

The record should be consulted in conjunction with:
VITAL RECORDS OF SANDISFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS, To the Year 1850:
Compiled and Edited by Captain Elizur Yale Smith: 1936: 111 pp.:
pub. by The Tuttle Publishing Co., Inc., Rutland, Vt.

Also consult CHURCH RECORDS OF SANDISFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS,
Compiled and edited by Captain Elizur Yale Smith: 1939: in manuscript. These three volumes cover Sandisfield effectively.
